Harry Potter and the Tri-Blizzard Tournament

Directed and Produced by: Brodie Pearson & Simon Thomas

Prologue: Harry, a sociology student, is having dinner with his climate sceptic parents when he gets a surprise visit from a lovely young gentleman who tells him that he should be a meteorologist and wants to whisk him off to study in Reading.

Scene 1: When Harry arrives at the Meteorology Department, he runs into some new friends and the talkative headmaster who tells him about the forthcoming Tri-Blizzard Tournament.

Scene 2: Our hero finds himself discussing his new top-secret PhD project with his supervisor. Let's hope no-one is listening in!

Scene 3: Veronica, Herman and Harry attend their first lectures in the Hummus Building. Here they learn some interesting facts about the evil group plotting against Harry.

Scene 4: The Champions are chosen for the Tri-Blizzard Tournament. Will the selection go by without a hitch and who will be champion for the venerable Atmosphere's Group?

Interval Entertainment with Jon Shonk & Maarten Ambaum

Scene 5: The Champions go through their rigorous training for the games and attend the spectacular opening ceremony with special guests.

Scene 6: A gruelling trio of challenges await our brave Champions. Harry runs into an old friend who is full of surprises and soon ends up in a lot of trouble.

Scene 7: Hermon declares his true feelings for Veronica, while Harry is taken to meet the evil meteorologist who has been after him for donkeys years.

Scene 8: He who must not be named (2012) gets his just desserts and the winner of the Tri-Blizzard Tournament is revealed, not without further controversy.

Epilogue: We look forward 2 and a half years to the conclusion of Harry's PhD. Of course his supervisor(s) is/are there to give their customary speech.
